BitDust White Paper — Version 1.1

1. Project Overview

BitDust is a simple, fixed-supply token on the Solana blockchain. It is intentionally minimal: a scarce asset with only 10,000 total tokens. There are no staking programs, no yield claims, and no roadmap promises. Value is entirely market-driven.

3. Tokenomics

Allocation	Amount (BTD)	Percent	Notes
Liquidity Pool (Raydium)	7,000	70%	Seeded with SOL for trading on launch
Creator Allocation	3,000	30%	Reserved; no additional minting

Supply is permanently capped. There is no burn mechanism and no reminting function.

4. Value Proposition

- Scarcity Only 10,000 tokens exist.
- Transparency Contract and supply are fully verifiable on-chain.
- Simplicity No staking, farming, or complex token mechanics.
- Decentralization Trading occurs on Raydium in a public liquidity pool.

5. Distribution & Trading

BitDust began trading on Raydium (DEX) with an initial SOL/BTD liquidity pool. The price is set by open market participants. There are no centralized market makers or guaranteed price floors.

How to Buy (Raydium / Jupiter)

- 1 Open the Raydium or Jupiter swap page.
- 2 Select SOL as input and BTD (BitDust) as output.
- 3 Verify the contract address before swapping:6JvXx5usmEHXB3RZjjrk94mcxqAWpFXazSqe9RBSE26z.
- 4 Set slippage as needed for low-liquidity trades.
- 5 Approve the transaction in your wallet.

6. Risks

- Price Volatility With a small total supply, price can move sharply in either direction.
- Liquidity Dependence Trading depth relies on the Raydium liquidity pool size and participation.
- No Intrinsic Utility BitDust does not claim utility beyond being a scarce, tradeable token.
- Speculative Nature Buyers should assume high risk and consider position sizing accordingly.

7. Disclaimer

BitDust is a community-driven token with no guarantees of profit, future development, or listing. Nothing in this document is financial or investment advice. Users should conduct their own research and understand the risks of decentralized trading before participating.
